United We Stand – United We Speak

www.hearus-now.org

Sunday, March 21, 2010 was a dark day in our national history. The ship of our liberties took a torpedo hit from our Constitutionally bankrupt leadership, and the ship is listing badly. Socialized health care will not be fiscally or politically sustainable and is an affront to the American people: their will, their values, and their liberties.

Even though our ship has been hit badly, it is not fatal. There is still light in the land, and the truth of our cause shall continue to march forward.

We are witnessing the accelerated dying of the American principles of self-government, personal responsibility, and the "consent of the governed" by the progressives in their passage of socialized health care legislation. Today their mischief has won a victory over the "chains" of the Constitution, but their celebration will only be for a season because they are waking up a giant in the land. We shall overcome and bring honor to the Constitution and our forefathers once again. We shall raise a banner to declare that this country and its people do not belong to the government, but the government belongs to the people. This government shall not bring tyranny upon this land.

We stand on the shoulders of giants, great patriots who went before us to establish, maintain, and defend the United States and the Republic form of government in which the people are sovereign under the divine providence of God. We the People shall rise up to install leaders who are worthy of this great country. Our path shall be a costly one, but it will secure the blessings of liberty and justice for our children and generations to come.

We shall, first and foremost, work diligently to eject elected officials who do not represent us, putting their own interests above the people, and to put in their places ones who will put the interests of America and its people first.

We shall work with our state officials to repel the unconstitutional advances of our Federal Government, demanding that it cease and desist, in the spirit and letter of the Tenth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.

We shall commit to educating ourselves and our fellow citizens in Constitutional principles and traditional American values so that we can effectively battle against poisonous "progressive" ideology and position ourselves to once again establish a government that is of the people, by the people, and for the people.

These things, among others, are our solemn duty. Let us remember that our cause is a righteous cause. We shall not give up in it. We shall not give up on the American people or this great nation. "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."
